152 MINERS BELIEVED DEAD

Today
Analyze Yourself.
And Your Business.
Old Ways Mean Ruin.
Lo, the Poor Farmer.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE
[The opinions expressed in this column are strictly those of Mr. Brisbane and not necessarily in consonance with the policies of The Review.]

IF there is anything the matter with you or your business INVESTIGATE YOURSELF AND YOUR METHODS.

That's the advice of scientific business.

Many individuals and businesses date back a long way, and won't accept any new ideas. They fail.

THOSE engaged in electrical manufactures, telephones and telegraphs and automobile manufacturers are fortunate, like the famous knife grinder, having no history, no barnacles attached to the ship.

A 100-candlepower electric lamp actually costs less to operate than the old-fashioned wax candle.

Old machinery and old methods are junked by modern business as soon as they become obsolete.

ONCE overhead wires filed New York's streets. Now a few trunk lines buried out of sight take their place. If Mr. Gifford, head of the telephone company, now used the old ways "the necessary overhead wires would create a solid roof of copper over New York City from river to river."

OUR automobile industry sets an example to the whole world. One worker here can produce more than 40 workers in Europe. The replacement of slow-drying paint by quick-drying lacquer has reduced the painting time for automobiles from days to minutes.

THESE things you learn from Mr. Alfred's "MANUFACTURING INDUSTRIES." C. P. Tolman, a New York consulting engineer, supplies the facts.

On the other hand, the textile industry, on which our cotton growers depend, is as much out of date as a Galapagos turtle would be in modern transportation.

There has been no real improvement in textile manufacture for a generation. "It is essentially ancient history."

THE automobile industry seeks to reduce costs with modern machinery, raising wages and encouraging men, while the textile industry "attempts to reduce costs by reducing wages, but with reverse effects."

INTELLIGENT automobile men, investigating capital in special machinery, save labor and reduce total costs, while paying a maximum wage to workers.

The General Electric company, by investing the cost of 136,000 pounds of mercury in a power-generating system save $200,000 a year in coal.

OLD fashioned ideas as foolish as Mother Goose stories interfere with some businesses. Meat Packers, for instance, though themselves efficient, but wasted enormous sums and time on cooling rooms. They IMAGINED that slaughtered carcasses must be "cooled off" before beginning refrigeration.

One experiment showed them that the cooling off process simply encouraged development of bacteria, dangerous germs of various kinds. Now they save cooling rooms, time and money.

FORTUNATELY the newest methods are often adopted by men no longer in their bursting boyhood.

Arthur S. Williams, Samuel Insull of Chicago, and others interested in the production of electric power change methods and machinery from day to day.

AT the Chicago world's fair everybody was amazed by a 600 kilowatt unit. Until then a 250 kilowatt machine was the limit. Now individual units develop 120,000 kilowatts, and one 250,000 kilowatt machine is planned.

Improvement in electrical science makes it possible now to supply at a good profit for $1 what would have cost $30 in the days of the old carbon lamp.

BLAZE RESULTS IN $10,000 LOSS

Barn of William Grimm, Near Columbiana Gutted; Livestock Perish.

Leaving her invalid father-in-law, William Grimm, and her 8-month-old child alone in the house, Mrs. Glenn Grimm, 19, liberated 49 cows before fire thought to have been caused by defective wiring gutted the barn on Grimm's dairy, one mile from Columbiana on the New Waterford road, with an estimated loss of $10,000, Friday night at 8 o'clock.

Four horses, two cows and five calves perished in the blaze. Quantities of hay and grain stored in the building also burned. Loss was insured for $7,000, according to Grimm.

NEAR - CYCLONE SWEEPS DISTRICT

PROPERTY LOSS IN SATURDAY'S STORM MAY HIT $50,000 MARK

Windows Shattered by Hail in Northside and East End Districts.

CELLARS FLOODED

Street Car, Telephone and Electric Light Service Hit.

Thousands of dollars worth of property damage was done, transportation service crippled, telephone and electric light service interrupted, cellars and streets flooded and roads blocked by a wind, hail and rain storm, which in some cases resembled a cyclone, that swept East Liverpool about 5 o'clock Saturday night. The loss may reach $50,000.

Streets and Cellars Flooded.

Windows were shattered and roofs perforated by hail, while storm sewers unable to carry off the water overflowed causing streets and alleys to be flooded. Trees were uprooted and broken by the force of the wind. Gardens, flower beds and shrubbery were laid waste by the force of the driving wind and hail.

Water which swept down Daisy alley from a clogged sewer washed away a 135 foot section of a brick foundation on the new Winland garage building which is being erected at the corner of Minerva and Walnut street. The loss is estimated at about $300.

Damage estimated at about $300 was caused when a brick wall of a new addition at the Kenilworth Tile company's plant, Third street, Newell collapsed, after it was undermined by water. Plant No. 4, of the Homer Laughlin China company, also at Newell is reported to have suffered damage from water and broken windows.

One of the greenhouses owned by T. F. Smiley, West Eighth street, suffered damages estimated at about $250. Several hundred panes of glass in the roof of the green house were broken by the hail stones. A small greenhouse, owned by Mrs. James Webber, Garfield street, was also badly damaged.

Hill Sections Hard Hit.

The most extensive damage by the hail occurred on the Northside and Pleasant Heights sections and also along Ohio avenue and St. George street districts, very few houses escaping without one or more broken windows. Trees in the North side section were stripped of their foliage by the force of the hail, flower beds and lawns ruined. Gardens also suffered heavily in this section.

Three houses near the head of Daisy alley are reported to have suffered extensively from the water which overflowed the storm sewer at this point. Several cases of flooded cellars were reported in this section.

The water which overflowed a run in Harker avenue also caused flooded cellars in that district. The Leak Hollow run became clogged at First avenue covering the street with several inches of water and entering a number of cellars in First avenue and Mulberry street. Yellowware plant of the D. E. McNicol Potter company in Manistree street was damaged by water which overflowed from the run in Harker avenue. The boiler stack at (Continued on Page 8, Col 3)

CONCERT AT ST. STEPHENS CHURCH

Arrangements have been perfected for the appearance here tomorrow night of the Elizabethan Singers, of Pittsburgh. The musicians will render a program in St. Stephen's church parish hall, West Fourth street.

Eleanor Dally, soprano, and Pierre De Backer, violinist, will be assisting artists.

The concert will be presented under auspices of St. Stephen's church choir.

THREE FILE FOR COUNTY OFFICES

Lawrence Kindsvatter, deputy sheriff and William J. Barlow, Burrows avenue, Saturday filed papers as candidates for office of sheriff of Columbiana county with John W. Moore, clerk of election board.

Clyde Barlow, Lisbon, also filed Saturday as candidate for county clerk of courts.

FLIES WITH LINDY

Major Langhler is expected to be co-pilot with Col. Lindbergh on his flight through Labrador, Greenland and Iceland in the attempt to plot out a commercial air route to Europe.

BACCALAUREATE SERVICE DRAWS IMMENSE CROWD

147 Graduates Attend Program at First M. E. Church.

HEAR SERMON Parents Reception at High School Building Tonight.

Congregations of East Liverpool Protestant churches crowded the auditorium of the First Methodist Episcopal church last night at a union baccalaureate service for the 147 high school seniors who will graduate this week.

Dr. Warren O. Hawkins, pastor, preached the baccalaureate sermon, "The Meaning of Life."

Mrs. T. C. Flick opened the service with an organ prelude, "The Fountain," followed by prayer by Rev. W. H. Baker. Senior mixed chorus sang "The King of Love My Shepherd Is."

Rev. J. F. Dimit then read the scripture text. Following the offertory, Miss Mildred Weaver sang a solo. Another song, "Softly Fades the Twilight" by the Senior chorus and the benediction by Rev. A. H. O'Brien closed the service for seniors.

More than 500 guests including school board members, teachers and parents of graduates are expected to attend a reception tendered parents in the high school tonight. Members of the senior class will present a program, after which a dance will be held in the gymnasium. William Lodge's orchestra will be in charge of music.

Dr. Hawkins spoke as follows in his sermon last night:

Whether born or made, all cannot be poets, but the next best thing to being a poet is the ability to appreciate him and to seize upon the wisdom which he paints for us in rare and chosen words.

Appreciation is a fine art. Your school and education has done much (Continued on Page 8, Column 4)

MUSIC SOCIETY STARTS DRIVE

100 Campaign Workers Meet for Luncheon at Y Today.

Civic Music association drive for 1,000 memberships got underway this noon when 100 women workers attended a campaign luncheon in the Y. M. C. A. banquet hall. Mrs. Joseph M. Wells, Newell, president of the association, presided and addressed the 15 teams of women, who will canvass the city.

Adult memberships will be $5 and juveniles, $3, each class of membership entitling holder to admission to three winter concerts.

In addition to East Liverpool workers will canvass Newell, Chester, Wellsville, Lisbon, Salineville and Midland, Pa.

C. F. GOODBALLET IS APPOINTED TO POST OF STREET COMMISSIONER

Oliver Buzzard Removed for Absenting Self Without Permit.

BEGINS WEDNESDAY

New Appointee Will Take Civil Service Examination.

For absenting himself from the city without permission, Oliver Buzzard, 335 Dresden avenue, for four years city street commissioner, was removed from office by Mayor Ralph C. Benedum today.

Clyde F. Goodballet, St. George street, former city solon and present member of the civil service commission, was named temporary commissioner by Benedum. He will serve until a civil service examination is held within the next three months.

Buzzard, who left his Dresden avenue home last Thursday has not been heard from since, according to report to Mayor Benedum.

Goodballet who is a kilt hand at the No. 2 plant of the Homer Laughlin China company, will assume his new post Wednesday morning. The job pays $165 per month or $1,980 per year.

The street commissioner appointee will tender his resignation as member of the civil service commission to which he was appointed last November within the next 30 days. He is a cousin of C. A. Goodballet who was street commissioner here several years ago.

POLICE RECOVER STOLEN CARS

Within 30 minutes after they had been reported stolen last night, police recovered two automobiles and today continued search for a third machine.

Buick sedan owned by George Farrell, Third and Washington streets, stolen at 11:30 o'clock last night, was recovered shortly afterward.

Ford coupe of Daniel Morgan, taken while parked in front of his residence in Jefferson street, was found by police on the Lisbon hill.

Search is being made for the Ford touring car bearing license plate 472-274, owned by P. F. Bailey, 731 Sophia street, stolen from his parking place in Chestnut street.

PAIR ESCAPE IN CROSSING CRASH

HAMMOND, Ind., May 21.—When their automobile stalled on the Michigan Central tracks here, John Yankos and his wife, of Indiana Harbor, resigned themselves to death. A fast train was bearing down upon them and they had not time to escape. They embraced.

The train, traveling at a high rate of speed, hit their light car and slid it along the rails on the tender for 500 feet, where it rolled down an embankment.

The car was demolished. A few minutes later, two forms wriggled from the debris. They were Yankos and his wife, unhurt save for minor bruises.

MRS. COOLIDGE AT MOTHERS BEDSIDE

NORTHAMPTON, Mass., May 21.—After spending a typical New England Sunday at church service, visiting the sick and enjoying the company of her family, Mrs. Calvin Coolidge was ready today for further visits at the bedside of her mother, Mrs. Elmira Goodhue.

The first lady of the land attended the service of the Edwards Congregational church, remaining in a rear pew during the sermon. Later she spent over an hour at the Cooley-Dickinson hospital where her mother had been a patient for nearly six months.

THREE PERISH AS HOUSE IS BURNED

NEW ALBANY, Miss., May 21.—Three daughters of J. S. Owens, editor of the New Albany Gazette, were burned to death early today while Mr. and Mrs. Owens narrowly escaped with their lives as their home was swept by fire.

Elizabeth Owens, 18, one of the victims, was to have graduated from New Albany high school next week. Her two daughters, Blake, 16, and Helen, 10, also perished in the flames. The bodies were recovered.

POLA NEGRI DONE WITH MOVIES

Pola Negri, temperamental Polish dicker favorite, who failed to repeat her European film triumphs when transplanted to the esthetic surroundings of Hollywood—who, in the terse language of the cinemafancs, "did a flop"—has packed up, closed her coast home and with her husband, Prince Mdivani, has left for the more hospitable climes of her native land.

Dr. W. O. Hawkins is Memorial Day Speaker

Joint Exercises by Soldier Organizations to Be Held at Riverview Cemetery Decoration Day Afternoon—Parade Planned.

Dr. Warren O. Hawkins, pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal church will be the speaker at the joint Memorial Day exercises of the Grand Army of the Republic, Veterans of Foreign Wars, American Legion, and Sons of Veterans to be held at Riverview Cemetery, it was announced today.

Dr. Hawkins was the selection of General Lyon Post No. 44, G. A. R., for the speaking honors and their program was approved by representatives of the other soldier organizations at a meeting in the Chamber of Commerce rooms in the Little building, Saturday night.

Four Bands in Parade.

Mayor Ralph C. Benedum was named chairman of the Memorial Day committee while H. B. Barth, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, was made secretary.

The observance, which will be held on the Memorial Day afternoon, will consist of a parade followed by exercises at Riverview cemetery. The procession will be headed by the G. A. R., followed by members of the American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars. Colors of the two posts will be massed in the parade.

Automobiles will be provided for the convenience of the mothers of deceased veterans who will appear in the parade. An invitation is to be extended to fraternal orders, particularly those with uniformed organizations to take part in the procession. Boy Scouts will also march. Four bands will participate.

At the cemetery, rituals will be carried out by the three organizations. The service will be concluded with the firing of three volleys by a gun squad and the sounding of taps by buglers.

Another meeting of the joint committee will be held next Saturday night.

REESE T. LEWIS, 18, LISBON, DIES

Within a week of his graduation from Lisbon high school, Reese T. Lewis, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert R. Lewis, Lisbon, died at 10:30 o'clock yesterday morning in Central clinic, Salem, as a result of complications.

He is survived by his parents, two brothers and a sister.

Funeral services will be held at 2:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon at the home in charge of Rev. R. J. Bennett, pastor of the Christian church, of which he was a member. Burial will be made in Lisbon cemetery.

BODIES OF 45 MEN REMOVED FROM SHAFT AT MATHER MINE

Fourteen of 211 Entombed Workers Rescued Alive.

BODIES BURNED

Federal and State Authorities Begin Investigation of Disaster.

By Regis Curran.

MATHER, Pa., May 21.—Laboriously digging their way through debris-choked mine entries, rescue crews today reached the nine butts where the bodies of 152 men killed in Saturday's explosion in the Mather Colliery are believed to lie.

Nine Butts Are Sealed.

Five more bodies were recovered today bringing the total taken from the mine to 45. It is believed that 211 men in all were in the mine at the time of the blast and all but fourteen probably perished.

The work of opening up the nine mine butts sealed by the blast, more than a mile and a half from the shaft, will probably take another day, officials directing the rescue work said.

The rescue crews are digging through each room in each of the butts between Nos. 15 to 25, which the bodies are believed to be buried.

Any faint hope that any of the miners would be found alive in the mine was dispelled by the condition of the five bodies removed today. They were burned almost beyond recognition.

"Black Damp" Feared

One short work today sealed the fate of 152 men trapped in the mine while rescue teams from all parts of Western Pennsylvania worked frantically to reach the miners in the forlorn hope that some of them may have been able to brattice themselves in from the working face of the mine and so escape the deadly gas, the grim veterans of the crews and federal and company officials alike saw no hope for the entombed men.

Deadly gas—"Black Damp"—which swept the workings in the wake of the terrific explosion, was feared to have taken its toll.

Meanwhile, in the vine covered recreation hall of this model mining village lay 45 mangled bodies first of the two hundred and eleven victims to be taken from the blasted wrecked mine.

Gas Blamed for Explosion.

Crews are digging around one debris-choked working face of the mine in the hope that if the rescue crews get behind the spot where the full force of the blast struck they may find men battered away in canvas rooms which could have checked the spread of the gas.

Experts who hurried here at first news of the explosion however have abandoned hope, because of the way in which gas has spread to every crevice in the mine so far explored.

While the majority of the experts assign gas as the reason for the blast, there were some who claimed that dust, possibly ignited by a spark from a mine car trolley, caused the explosion.

POLICE ACTIVE OVER WEEK-END

Fines Totalling $410 Meted Out Following Series of Raids.

Fines totalling $410 were handed out in liquor cases by Municipal Judge J. C. Hanley this morning, following a series of police raids Saturday night. Thomas Morgan, Crook and Center alley, in whose home police alleged they found six cases of beer, was fined $250 and costs. Morgan admitted that this was his second offense. His wife was arrested several months ago on a similar charge.

Robert Beckwith, Rock alley, also charged with illegal possession of liquor, drew a fine of $100 and costs.

Floyd Freed, Dresden avenue, charged with driving an automobile while intoxicated, was ordered to pay $50 and costs. Mistreatment of a small dog, while he was intoxicated, cost James Cunningham $10 and costs when he faced Judge Hanley.

G. D. Richardson, Mingo, forfeited $7 bond when he failed to appear in municipal court today to answer a charge of driving with four persons in the front seat of his automobile.

Case of Edward Davis, illegal possession of liquor, was continued by the judge for further investigation. Davis is under a physician's care.

USE OF COSMETICS BANNED BY PRIEST

DETROIT, Mich., May 21.—There's one church in Detroit where painted lips and religion won't mix.

Father Foley, assistant pastor of St. Ambrose church, in Grosse Pointe park, caused a flutter among feminine attendants at mass yesterday by announcing that, in future, no woman who uses lipstick would be given holy communion from his hands.

"This practice is irreverent and unbecoming and I will not countenance it," Father Foley said.

LISBON MAN FINED ON DRY CHARGE

James Rabino, North Market street, paid a fine of $300 and costs for illegal possession of liquor, when he pleaded guilty before Mayor R. B. Clark, Lisbon, Saturday night after officers found 50 quarts of beer on his premises. Quantity of whiskey was dumped into the sink, according to Deputy Sheriff Lawrence Kindsvatter, Kindsvatter, Marshal George Groves and Officer B. F. Rollin, Lisbon, made the raid.

EXPECT COOLIDGE TO VETO BILL

WASHINGTON, May 21.—President Coolidge indicated again today he would veto the McNary-Haugen farm bill.

He held a conference at the white house with Senator McNary (R) of Oregon and Rep. Haugen (R) of Iowa, co-authors, after which McNary smilingly said:

"It looks rainy. The weather man says the prospects aren't good."

In Memoriam.
In loving memory of Mrs. Fred Householder who died two years ago today, May 21, 1926:
"A tender wife, a mother dear Has gone and left us here; She's parted from this world of pain, But only died to live again; We loved her—oh—no tongue can tell, How much we loved her and how well, God loved her to, and thought it best, To take her home with him to rest. Do not ask us if we miss her, For there's such a vacant place Often we think we hear her foot-steps. Or we see her smiling face. For she left us broken-hearted. Friends may think the wound is healed. But little do they know the sorrow That lies within our hearts concealed. Sadly missed by
HUSBAND AND CHILDREN, FATHER AND MOTHER, BROTHERS AND SISTERS.

In Memoriam.
In loving memory of Mrs. Fred Householder who died two years ago today, May 21, 1926:
"A tender wife, a mother dear Has gone and left us here; She's parted from this world of pain, But only died to live again; We loved her—oh—no tongue can tell, How much we loved her and how well, God loved her to, and thought it best, To take her home with him to rest. Do not ask us if we miss her, For there's such a vacant place Often we think we hear her foot-steps. Or we see her smiling face. For she left us broken-hearted. Friends may think the wound is healed. But little do they know the sorrow That lies within our hearts concealed. Sadly missed by
HUSBAND AND CHILDREN, FATHER AND MOTHER, BROTHERS AND SISTERS.

YOUNG BLERIOT HOPES TO MAKE ATLANTIC JUMP

Father Was First to Fly Across Channel.
SON AGED 23
Plans Hop to Boost Commercial Aviation.

PARIS.—My father was the first to fly across the English channel, I had hoped to be the first to fly across the Atlantic, and who knows, my son—he isn't born yet—might be the first to fly across the Pacific," said the twenty-three year old Louis Bleriot, son of the famous French pioneer, in an exclusive interview with International News Service.

Louis Bleriot, Jr., was telling his plans for crossing the Atlantic in company with Lucien Bossoutrot and the reasons for certain modifications they intend to make in their attempt.

No Non-Stop Attempt.

"We have no intention of making a non-stop flight between Paris and New York," said the young man. "After all 'commercial aviation' is the thing. Our purpose is to establish

"the first crossing of a regular trans-Atlantic service."

With this idea in mind and with a stop at the Azores contemplated, important changes in the plane to be used have been made. The flying radius will be cut from 8,000 miles to less than 4,000 miles.

"Our plane will be a Bleriot monoplane," explained M. Bleriot, "with four Hispano motors of 250 H. P. each. These motors are absolutely new and are being made especially for us by the Hispano company. We hope they will turn up to 300 H. P. each, this will give up a total motive power of 12,000 H. P.

His first thought was to place gasoline tanks in the pontoons of the plane, as the machine is to be a hydroplane, but since the trials are to be made from the ground with wheels, this idea was dropped.

To Take Radio.

"Each motor should use about 18 gallons of gasoline an hour and produce a speed of 125 miles," says M. Bleriot. "The loaded plane will weigh about nine tons. We are going to install radio receiving and sending apparatus."

Where the start of the flight will commence has not yet been decided nor the date.

"The Seine does not give us a sufficient straight line in order to get away so we may have to start quite a distance from Paris. As to the date: my father crossed the English channel on July 25, 1909, I would like to take off on that date, which would be the nineteenth anniversary of that great event. It might bring me good luck."

Five couples were married simultaneously in a church at Southwark, England, recently.

AFTER "PLUM"

Mrs. Bessie Ross of Gary, Ind., is almost certain of having a $50,000 a year job after the November elections. She's Republican nominee for clerk of Lake County, Ind., where they don't elect Democrats.

Australian Auto Market Captured By United States

LONDON.—The United States has beaten Britain in the Australian car market, declares Sir Granville Ryrie, High Commissioner for Australia in London.

"I have bought three American cars in succession," he told the American Chamber of Commerce in London, "because I don't like the British car. These American cars suited me and they were cheaper."

"The American cars have higher horsepower, a higher clearance, are better sprung, and their gears are lower. This makes them for heavy loads, particularly those in the Bush. Above all, they are cheaper."

Austrian Woman Senator Leads Vice Crusade

VIENNA.—The Index of Prohibited Books, the State Commission on Public Morals, the Jail for Prodigals and Immorals, a severe censorship and rigid press laws should be reintroduced in Austria as a part of a crusade against vice and especially against nakedness on the stage and in the press according to a bill introduced in the Austrian Bundesrat (corresponding to the American senate) by the woman senator, Dr. Bertha Pichl, an ardent Christian Socialist.

Frau Dr. Pichl thinks that Vienna has become another Sodom. "Immorality is rampant, improper pictures and books are threatening the morals of youth, wicked authors are assailing the sanctity of domesticity, the theatres have become nudist shows and malefactors are even advertising these nudities on posters and placards," said Frau Pichl in an interview given to the press.

Hardened Steel For Autos, Planes Requires Little Oil

PARIS.—The dream of motorists and aviators—steel cylinders that defy wear and require little oil—has been realized, according to Monsieur Leon Guillet, director of the Ecole Centrale.

"The metal is given superior durability by nitrogenizing it," said M. Guillet. In view of the tests to which he said nitrogenized steel already has been subjected M. Guillet foresaw the opening of an era when aviators will be enabled to easily follow the trans-Atlantic trail blazed by Lindbergh while auto races will exceed the recent speed record of Ray Ketch.

Desk Compartment In New Airplane Of Army Officer

BOSTON, Mass.—The tired business man who has a stock ticker along on his vacation will have nothing on Major General Preston Brown. The new airplane sent here by the war department for his personal use is equipped with a desk compartment so the general can attend to routine while flying to visit army posts in his area.

Major General Brown's first flight in the new plane was to Mineola, L. I., to witness aerial maneuvers.

Nearly one-third of the revenues of American motion picture distributors now come from abroad.

The Span of Life Is Lengthening

In 1790 the average length of life was 35 years, in 1910 it was lengthened to 40.45. At present, census figures show that it has attained a span of 58 years. ### Cute in a Baby-Awful at Three—and it's Dangerous

by Ruth Brittain

Thumb sucking does look sweet in a baby, but it is disgusting in the three-year-old and sometimes it hangs on until fifteen or sixteen! The habit may cause an ill-formed mouth or induce adenoids! and it always interferes with digestion. Pinning the sleeve over the hand; attaching mittens, or putting on cardboard cuffs, which prevent bending the arms at the elbows, are some of the ways to stop the habit.

Another bad habit—irregularity in bowel action—is responsible for weak bowels and constipation in babies. Give the tiny bowels an opportunity to act at regular periods each day. If they don't act at first, a little Fletcher's Castoria will soon regulate them. Every mother should keep a bottle of it handy to use in case of colic, cholera, diarrhea, gas on stomach and bowels, constipation, loss of sleep, or when baby is cross and feverish. Its gentle influence over baby's system enables him to get full nourishment from his food, helps him gain, strengthens his bowels.

Castoria is purely vegetable and harmless—the recipe is on the wrapper. Physicians have prescribed it for over 30 years. With each package, you get a valuable book on Motherhood. Look for Chas. H. Fletcher's signature on the wrapper so you'll get the genuine.

Expect Record Vote At May 29 Primaries

Hancock County Registers 10,000 Electors in Warm Fight for Federal, State and County Ticket Places.

Record breaking vote is expected to be cast in Hancock county at the primary election on Tuesday, May 29, according to leaders of both major parties. Total registration of the county is close to the 10,000 mark.

There are warm fights for federal, state and county ticket places, with chief interest centered in the Republican contests for United States senator and governor.

Governor Howard M. Gore, Dr. Henry D. Hatfield and Benjamin L. Rosenbloom are seeking the nomination for senator, while William G. Conley, H. Roy Waugh, Joseph H. McDermott, George H. Miller and Edward Dist are in the field for governor.

W. Edwin Wells, Jr., Newell, and J. William Moulds, Holliday's Cove, are contesting for the state senatorial nomination in the first district which includes Hancock, Brooke and Ohio counties.

Several candidates are seeking the Democratic nomination for the governorship, while O. O. Allison and John Yoho are aspirants for the Democratic place for sheriff.

Five candidates are in the field for sheriff on the Republican ticket, L. A. Rush, F. E. Carroll, Howard Hellman, James Robinson, J. S. D. Mercer and Charles T. Haynes. Donald H. Chaffin and Paul McCoy are opposing Robert C. Evans, who is seeking re-nomination as assessor.

Justice A. G. Allison, Chester, and John A. Myler, Newell, are out for re-election as justices of Grant district. J. W. Owen, Orris H. Cundiff and A. A. Haynes have filed for the same office, while John Talbott, John P. Allison, Lawrence A. Wheatley, Carl Manley, W. E. Smith and Brady Seavers are candidates for constable.

Prosecuting Attorney Thomas S. Hoffman, seeking re-election, is opposed by Attorney W. W. Ingram, of Chester.

BAZAAR PLANNED HERE BY FIREMEN

Plans have been completed for the county fair and bazaar which will be held in the new municipal building Friday and Saturday nights under the auspices of the fire department.

Masonic Club Meets Thursday. Members of the Ladies' Masonic club will meet Thursday in the temple, First street. Hostesses will be Mesdames Frank Gregg, Harry Oyster and Earl Mahan.

CHARGES FILED AGAINST LEE

John C. Bond, Former Auditor, Seeks Removal of Atty. Gen.

Charges of "official misconduct" were filed Saturday in the governor's office by John C. Bond, former state auditor, against Attorney General Howard B. Lee, who was chief of prosecution counsel at the trial of Bond which resulted in his conviction of misuse of state funds while in office.

About the same time State Treasurer W. S. Johnson filed a detailed answer to charges of irregularities made against him earlier in the week by Bond. Johnson was credited with having originated the investigation into Bond's official conduct and was a leading witness for the state at his trial. Both Johnson and Lee are candidates for the Republican nomination for re-election at the May 29 primary.

Like the action against Johnson, the document presented at the governor's office against Lee by Bond seeks his impeachment or removal from office, or both. Johnson has maintained the charges against him were made in an effort to discredit him with the public in the closing days of the campaign. Lee concluded a statement explaining various allegations set up against him by saying "the reason and purpose of Mr. Bond's charges at this time are too obvious to need further comment."

A leading specification in Bond's bill of complaint against Lee was the attorney general's activity in the investigation of the auditor's office and the subsequent litigation. He claimed "it was the duty of the attorney general under the law to defend the official acts of Bond, as auditor, until such time as it was shown that the state was interested on the other side."

Other specifications in Bond's long bill of complaint against Lee were failure to account for funds collected by him and pay same into the treasury; perjury or false swearing relative to special funds; failure and refusal to perform official duties; negligence and carelessness in performing official duties; improper use of official records of office; use of official position for personal financial gain; improper recommendation in delinquent tax case; illegal payment out of treasury; improper and illegal expenditure of appropriations; approving illegal payment and making illegal pre-election promises and false affidavits concerning campaign contributions.

STORM FLOODS WELLS AVENUE

Street Curb Deep With Mud, Water and Debris.

Through the efforts of Mayor Wallace L. Fogo, Service Director George Imbrie and city workmen, Wells avenue has been cleaned of the results of a near cloudburst which Saturday night swept mud, water, trees and debris down the thoroughfare from Wells hollow to the Little Yellow Creek bridge.

Working steadily since the storm broke Saturday evening shortly after 5 o'clock, municipal forces had restored the highway to its former condition last night, the storm causing little damage save the costs of the clean-up job.

For several hours Wells avenue between Wells hollow and the bridge was curb deep with mud, water and debris of various descriptions.

A downpour of rain, apparently centering in the ravine known as Wells hollow, swelled the creek water and swept great lengths of tree trunks, old logs and stumps, as well as boulders and dirt down to Wells avenue. Here the creek passes under a culvert. Tree trunks and logs jammed up in front of the culvert and, forming a dam, threw water and mud over the culvert into the street and the yards of homes along the street.

For an hour or more street car traffic was delayed as municipal workmen endeavored to clear a track through to the bridge. Traffic later was resumed, cars and automobiles operating through six inches or more of water and mud. In a few instances a small quantity of the water seeped into cellars but caused no damage.

The violence of Saturday night's storm, as far as Wellsville was concerned, was centered in the Wells avenue district.

AUTOS COLLIDE IN HEAVY FOG

One Woman Injured in Campground Road Crash.

Mrs. William Zouck was badly cut by flying glass and bruised about the body, and an automobile owned by William Zouck, Chester avenue, partially wrecked when the car, driven by Hazel Zouck, Chester avenue, a daughter, collided with another machine, driven by V. D. Deshler, of East Liverpool, in the heavy fog shortly after 7 o'clock this morning on the Campground road a short distance above the top of the grade.

Mrs. Zouck, accompanied by three other women, were enroute to work in East Liverpool. Hazel and Helen Zouck and Maud Hackworth were not injured.

Deshler, his brother, E. C. Deshler, and "Hop" Fugate, were going to work in the mill at Wellsville.

The fog, it is said, obscured the vision of both drivers.

Mrs. Zouck was taken to the office of Dr. J. M. King for medical treatment. The Zouck car was towed to the Standard garage, Twelfth street.

SALINEVILLE

A party was given Friday evening at the home of Mrs. Marian Wilkie, Maple Hill, in honor of her daughter, Miss Robena. Miss Wilkie, who has been visiting relatives in the United States for 12 months, will sail for her home in Scotland, from New York, Saturday, May 26. She will be accompanied by her mother, who will spend several months with relatives and friends at her old home in Scotland. Miss Wilkie is the recipient of many beautiful presents. Lunch was served to the following guests: Mayme Graubner, Lela Lewis, Mrs. John Gallagher, Hannah Daley, Jean Brewster, Edna Shaff, Blanche Hanley, Bess Ashbaugh, Bess Eisenbarth, Olive Calvin, Verne Randolph, Mabel Martin, Nan Wilkie, Master Donald Lewis and Bob Wilkie.

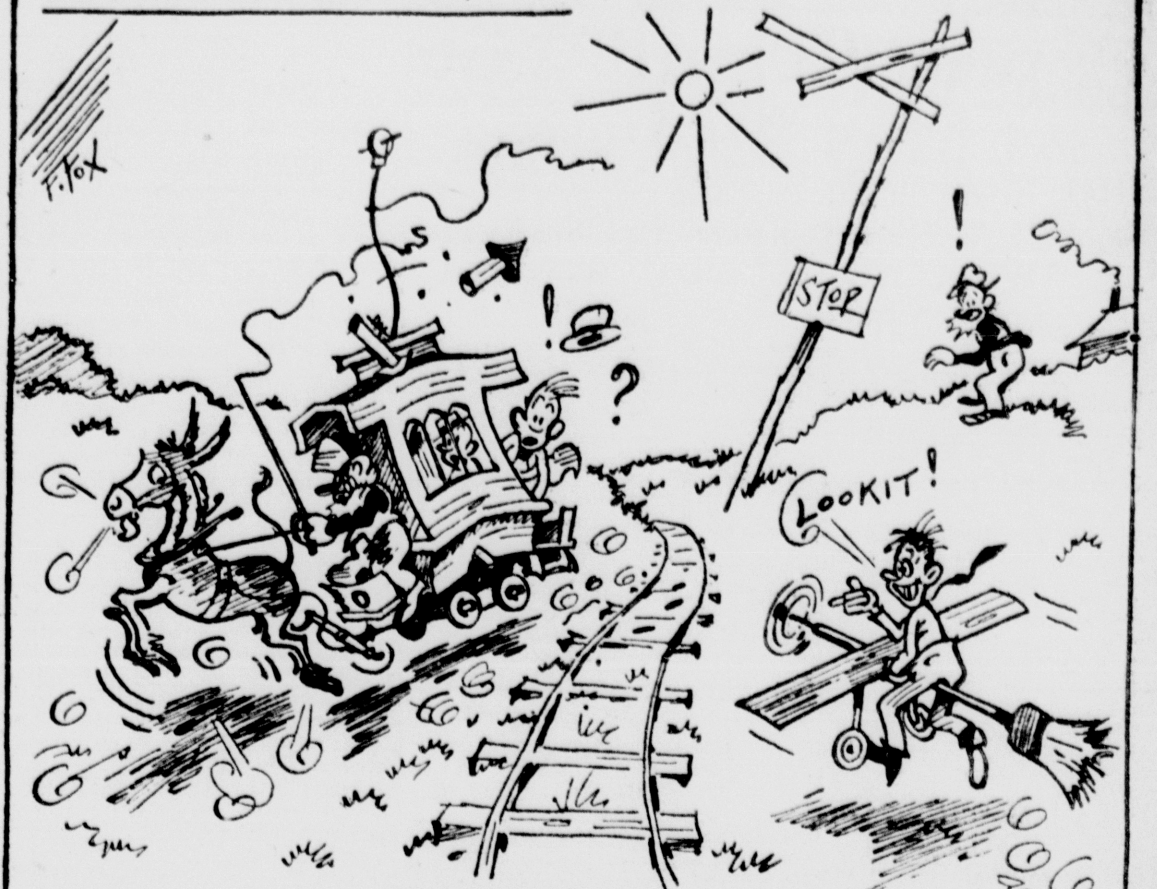

Spelling contest has been held during the past week in the Salineville high school and the grades, to determine the champion spellers. In the high school nine eliminations were required to determine the champion. The seventh, fourth and third grades also had ties which required additional contests. The following are winners: High school, Leona Bowman, first; Dorothy Leishman, second; Mary Maher, third; Eighth grade, William Miller, first; Rose Williams, second; Seventh grade, Rita Maher, first; Harry Feldman, second; Sixth grade, Thomas Sheehan, first; Christine Hutton, second; June Andrews, third; Fourth grade, Grace Maher, first; Aline Nolan, second; Vivian Lewis, third; Fourth grade, Evelyn George, first; Mary Collins, second; Hazel Smith, third; Third grade, Jennie Gill, first; Cleonabel Bolles, second; Wilma Finney, third.

The Bryant and Emerson Literary societies will hold their annual contest in the Graubner Opera House on Thursday evening, May 24.

Stopped Gall Bladder Trouble After Three Years Suffering

Says Others Can Have Same Wonderful Relief

Here are the symptoms with which nature warns you of Gall Bladder Trouble. They are often mistaken for stomach trouble or indigestion. They are stomach pains, constipation alternating with diarrhea, intestinal distress and pains in the right side.

Do not wait until your whole system is polluted with poisonous waste matter causing intestinal catarrh, headaches, dizziness, neuritis and maybe a major operation for gall stones.

It all comes from bile stagnation in the gall bladder, because the bile lacks fluid and does not flow as nature intends it should.

One of the best things for this is a new pleasant home treatment which thins out the bile, and is designed to stimulate the liver, overcome constipation and aid the gall bladder in emptying the bile.

It is called Klax-Ko. You take a tablet or two according to directions at meal time. You should feel relief in a very few days and as thousands have been helped back to health, freedom from pains and gall bladder inflammation, there is no reason why you, too, shouldn't gain the same blessed results.

Mrs. Elizabeth Sheerer, 620 Oak St., Huntington, Ind., suffered for three years, finally compelling her to go to bed. She took Klax-Ko Tablets and no longer has her old trouble, aches or pains. Eats what she wants. Sleeps well and has no fear of operation.

Carnahan Drug Store or your own special druggist will guarantee it. Get a 30 days treatment of Klax-Ko. Avoid serious Gall Bladder trouble or Gall Stones. Start today.

ARE YOU LIKE W. H. SMITH? ALL "DRAGGED OUT?"

Every day some grateful man or woman writes us about what World's Catarrh Treatment has done for him or her.

Here's the case of W. H. Smith, living at W. Bridgewater, Pa. His condition is typical of a lot of you. He got up in the morning tired out—his mouth tasted bad and he had to force himself to go to work. After work he was all in—just dragging around. Doctors didn't help him. A dozen remedies failed.

He didn't know what was the matter, but when our demonstrator saw him it was evident he was full of catarrh. Catarrh means stagnation. His stomach didn't work right; his digestion didn't give him the elements he needed to be full of pep. The membranes lining his stomach and bowels are full of congestion—just stagnating.

A single bottle of World's Catarrh treatment started him improving. Things began to clear up. Now Mr. Smith writes us:

"The change is wonderful. Three bottles of World's Catarrh Remedy have made me a new man. I get up lively, ready for anything. My day's work doesn't tire me out, and after it I am full of energy and enjoy every minute.

Why should you drag around half dead when this wonderful treatment may be had? Get started on it today. You can get World's Catarrh Remedy at Carnahan's, also C. N. Brannan's, Wellsville, and all other first class druggists.—(275).

GERMANS BEAT MARX PARTY AT POLLS SUNDAY

Socialist Communist Party Wins by Virtual Landslide.

MANY WOMEN VOTE

Socialists Gain 24 Seats Communists Eight in Reichstag.

BERLIN, May 21.—Germany's general election resulted in a virtual landslide for the Socialist-Communist factions, and in the defeat of the Marx government, according to the latest compilations at noon today.

It was reported that the Marx government would resign tomorrow, but after consultation this afternoon the cabinet decided to remain in power until the new reichstag meets the second week in June.

The election result is considered a death blow to monarchist hopes, and is causing fears in some quarters that there will be further radical legislation by the new reichstag.

The new government will be either a big or little so-called "Weimar coalition," dominated by socialists, Otto Braun, socialist premier of Prussia, is spoken of as the next chancellor. Another socialist mentioned in this connection is Herr Loeb, president of the old reichstag.

Although the German People's party, of which Foreign Secretary Stresemann is a leader, lost six reichstag seats, according to the noon compilation, Dr. Stresemann is expected to retain his post in any new cabinet that is formed, owing to his international prestige and to the further fact that the socialists in the old reichstag were the chief supporters of his foreign policies.

Incomplete returns gave the Socialists 155 reichstag seats, which was a gain of 24; Communists 51 seats, a gain of eight. Thus, the Socialist groups captured more than two-fifths of the reichstag.

The Nationalists elected approximately 72 members, meaning a loss of about 35 seats. Dr. Stresemann's German people's party will have approximately 45 seats, a loss of six. The Catholic Center party will have 61 seats or a loss of eight.

The Democrats also lost eight seats. They will have about 24 members. The Bavarian People's party will have 15 seats, losing four.

The Economic party gained seven seats, increasing their representation to 24. The Fascist apparently will have their old representation — 13 seats.

Additional returns at mid-afternoon caused revisions in the noon list. These returns reduced the socialists' seats from 155 to 152 and increased the number of Communist seats from 51 to 54. Other results based upon the mid-afternoon compilation were: Nationalists 73 seats; German people's party, 44 seats; centrists (Catholic center party), 62 seats; Democrats, 25 seats; Bavarians, 16 seats; economic party, 23 seats; Poles, 12 seats; various peasant parties, 25 seats; popular rights party, 20 seats. A total of 489 Reichstag deputies were elected by 14 parties.

Thirty-one parties participated in the election, but only 14 or 15 of them elected Reichstag deputies.

The present Marx government, a coalition cabinet consisting of members of the Nationalists, center party, German people's party and economic party, has long been under fire and was only able to hold on through the intervention of President Von Hindenburg.

The election was accompanied by violence in some districts.

One Republican Reichs bannerman and two children were wounded in clashes at Barmen. Several were injured in rioting at Leipzig and Breslau. There were numerous gun fights in Berlin where a score were injured and 140 arrests made.

From 75 to 90 per cent of the enfranchised men and women went to the polls. The election cost approximately $6,000,000.

Foreign Secretary Stresemann was re-elected on the Nationalist ticket, although there was a majority vote against him in some Bavarian districts.

POLICE SEEK CHECK FORGER

Robs Lisbon Man's Home During Church Services.

After stealing a blank check book from the home of H. T. Hinton, Lisbon-Leetonia road, while Hinton was in Lisbon Saturday night, an unidentified thief wrote checks aggregating $115 which he cashed in Lisbon stores before making his escape.

Hinton failed to miss the book until officers of the People's State bank notified him today that the forged checks were being turned in for payment at the bank.

Going to the Huston Clothing company the thief bought a shirt, writing a $25 check and receiving change. At the Wilson Shoe company, he made a similar transaction with a $30 check. He bought another shirt for which he offered a $25 check at the Mose Greenberg store and then went to the Homer Henry meat market, where he cashed one for $30 without making a purchase.

Hinton was attending services in the Church of Christ, East Washington street when his home was entered. Nothing but the check book and a number of cancelled checks was stolen.

ESCAPED CONVICT IS CAPTURED

NEW LEXINGTON, O., May 20.—Carl Woodrow, 26, Zanesville, convict of the Ohio state penitentiary at Columbus, and laborer at the Junction City brick plant of that institution near here, was today being held under special guard at the brick plant today.

Yesterday afternoon the whistle of the power house of the brick plant blew three shrill blasts notifying the farmers of the surrounding country that a prisoner had escaped. Woodrow was the fugitive.

Two hours later the same whistle blasted again informing the same farmers who had heard the whistle that the man had been captured.

Today Woodrow is being held under special guard at the Junction City plant.

K. OF C. MEET ENDS TONIGHT

275 Delegates Registered at Marion Convention.

MARION, O., May 21.—The 29th annual convention of the Ohio council, Knights of Columbus, which opened here Saturday night, prepared to go into executive session today with practically all of its 275 delegates registered. The total number of convention visitors was estimated at over 500.

State officers are slated to be elected today. A hot contest among Mansfield, Toledo, Columbus and Cincinnati has developed with each city seeking the 1929 convention. Mansfield and Toledo are conceded the best chance of being chosen. Both these cities sent delegations urging their respective merits as convention sites. The decision will be made today.

A class of 40 candidates were inducted into the order yesterday afternoon. State Deputy William E. Haas and his staff exemplifying the third degree in the Elks' temple. Marion council conferred the first two degrees.

T. J. Duffy, East Liverpool, supreme director of the Knights of Columbus; Attorney John Nolan of Steubenville, State Deputy Haas and Rev. Thomas Nolan, of Columbus, addressed over 500 men and women at the convention banquet last night.

The convention will close tonight with a grand ball.

Fire Damages Studio.
HOLLYWOOD, Cal., May 21.—While scores of colorful clod motion picture players looked on, fire swept through the "east lot" of the Fox film studio today, causing damage estimated in excess of $200,000.

Killed at Crossing.
COLUMBUS, May 21.—J. F. Price, 52, railroad switch tender, struck by an auto while crossing the streets as traffic light changed.

Bodies of 45 Men

men who may have been able to brattle themselves in from the gas, thousands of cubic feet of pure air were being forced into the workings today.

A picture of the force of the blast was given by Marcus Cobb, leader of the first seven man rescue team to reach the base of the shaft after the explosion.

He said the bodies of three men, badly mangled, were found almost at the foot of the shaft—3,000 feet from the center of the explosion. A few feet farther on they came upon three injured men. As far as they dared advance in the face of the gas they found bodies, many mangled beyond identification.

Red Cross Aids Relief.
Meanwhile, on the green hillsides which slope down to the Colliery tipple, a small army waited—silently sharing a hope which cold scientific calculation failed to dim—relatives of the victims.

From the hour late Saturday when word spread through the neat little mining village that an explosion had sealed the mine, they have kept vigil—mothers, children, babes in arms—while kindly strangers organized into rescue teams to brave the death most of the entombed miners probably have met.

The ever present Red Cross is here, serving coffee and sandwiches, ministering to the weary rescue teams, comforting the stricken. Ambulances, needed now only to convey the canvas wrapped bodies, share the vigil.

The federal and state bureaus of mines are investigating the explosion and directing rescue work, while a hastily summoned coroner's jury under the rector of Coroner J. W. Ross has viewed the bodies so far recovered.

Thousands on thousands of persons, from all parts of western Pennsylvania and West Virginia came here Sunday to view the blast-wrecked mine. They were kept from the mine and temporary morgue by troopers.

Mine Owners Reach Scene.
CLEVELAND, May 20.—Several executives of the Pickands, Mather company, owner of the ill-fated Mather collieries mine at Mather, Pa., were on the scene of the disaster today to help with rescue work and direct financial aid to families of victims in the explosion which left here Saturday were Pickands and H. C. Dalton, executive partners of the firm; Harry Coulby, in charge of the vessel department and a number of the company's insurance and safety force. Frank Armstrong, partner in charge of the coal department, left Cleveland for Mather Saturday night immediately upon hearing of the explosion. Armstrong's advice to the local office late Sunday stated that 60 bodies had been recovered or sighted in the mine. The Mather mine is the only coal mine belonging to the Pickands-Mather company, it is said. It has been operating about ten years, supplying coke ovens, local representatives of the firm declared.

SURFACING OF ROAD PLANNED

Commissioners Approve Project in Middle-town Township.

Final resolution calling for the surfacing of 5.18 miles of the East Palestine-East Liverpool road from Negley in Middleton township south to the St. Clair township line, a distance of 5.18 miles was approved today by the county commissioners. This road will be 18-feet in width and will have a concrete top. The cost has been estimated at about $165,000.

Grading on this section is being done in the vicinity of Negley, and will be completed within three weeks. A portion of the new road is being cut through an eight foot rock vein.

About three years ago the Middleton trustees and farmers joined in grading on this road. Entertainments were held for the purpose of raising funds, and financial aid was also sought by the sponsors of the road from business interests in both East Palestine and East Liverpool. This effort contributed in a large measure in having the state highway department designate the road an inter-county highway.

Bids for the surfacing of this section will probably be opened at the June letting by the state highway department, and with the understanding that the entire section is to be resurfaced before winter sets in.

There will be no surfacing done on this road in St. Clair township this year, due to the fact that the heavy fills must be allowed to settle until next spring.

A portion of the road in St. Clair township may be given a cinder top to last through the winter season, but this idea has not been fully determined upon by the commissioners.

Governor Back to Desk.
COLUMBUS, May 21.—After enjoying a three-weeks vacation, which included a motor trip in the southland, Governor Vic Donahey today returned to his desk at the statehouse.

Property Loss

the plant of the American Vitriol Products company plant was toppled by the wind. Hail, which damaged the roof caused water to enter the building damaging stocks of ware.

House Foundation Undermined.
A new house, owned by Burdette Latta under construction in Michigan avenue, Klondyke, was damaged when the foundation wall on one side collapsed after the street was flooded.

Water, coming from Gardendale, overflowed the culvert near the W. L. Dean store, Dresden avenue, causing the basement of the building to be flooded. Part of the fill made for the Youngstown-East Liverpool road is also reported to have been washed away by the water near this point.

More than 500 telephones were put out of commission by cable trouble. Toll lines to Lisbon and other points were also out of order. Linemen worked all of Saturday night and yesterday in an effort to re-establish service.

Tree Breaks Electric Light Line.
A tree which fell across electric light wires on Ohio avenue, causing three poles to break caused an interruption in electric light service. The break caused a suspension of operations in the Pennsylvania avenue and industry substations of the street car company. During the break power to the downtown district was fed through the Second street sub-station. Ohio Power company repair crews worked all of Saturday night to complete the repairs.

Street car service on practically all lines was tied up by the storm. The east-bound track was washed away at the two points near Brady's out on the Wellsville-East Liverpool line. Service to Wellsville, Steubenville and down river point was re-established about 8 o'clock Saturday night although a transfer arrangement was made necessary. The west-bound track was opened Sunday morning. Repairs are being rushed today and the other track will be opened by late this afternoon.

Lisbon Street Paving Washed Out.
Dirt which washed out from the hillside streets interrupted schedules on the Grandview and Pleasant Heights line, and also on the East End, Midland and Beaver branches for about two hours. Passengers on a north-bound Grandview car were stern-stopped when a car was derailed near Avondale and Bank streets. Debris from the hillside also covered the tracks in St. Clair and McKinnon avenues.

Service over the Youngstown and Ohio River railroad was also tide up for several hours Saturday night. A section of the track was washed out. It is claimed when a high tension wire broke near McCurdy's stop. Parts of the paving in Lisbon street was also washed away when water undermined the road near McBride's corner. The street was roped off yesterday. Motorists being urged to drive slowly past the scene of the washout.

Club house owned by the Baraca class of the Second United Presbyterian church, on St. George street was damaged when the limb of a tree crashed upon the roof.

Considerable damage was also reported having been done at the Oak Grove campground between this city and Wellsville. Windows were broken by hail and considerable damage done by water to the grounds.

Highway is Closed.
The Wellsville-East Liverpool highway was closed to traffic by tons of dirt and other debris washed down from the hillside. The county road force from Lisbon were called out. The Sunday expected to have the road opened by the middle of the week. In the meantime traffic to Wellsville is being detoured over the campground road.

The Big Free Fireworks Display
scheduled for the evening of May 19. Opening night of Rock Springs Park, was postponed on account of bad weather conditions and will be shown on SATURDAY NIGHT, May 26th.

OFFER PRIZES TO JUNIOR AVIATORS

NEW YORK, May 21.—The American society for promotion of aviation has offered a prize of $1,000 for the first boy or girl under eighteen years of age who successfully flies from San Francisco to New York under rules and regulations outlined by the society.

Among those who have signified their interest in entering the race are Farman Parker, 15, of Anderson, Indiana; Byron Woods of San Diego, California, and Dick James of Buffalo, New York. Woods and James are both seventeen years of age.

The proposed flight will consist of a series of twenty one hops touching the largest cities along the route. Entrants will be paced by older fliers.

MARIETTA GETS STATE MUSEUM

$50,000 Building to be Erected on Stockade Sight.

COLUMBUS, O., May 20.—"Ohio's oldest settlement" Marietta, Ohio, is to have a $50,000 archaeological state museum, according to announcement at the state architect's office here today.

Though the bid amounted to but $27,900, it was pointed out that more than $50,000 will be spent before the building is completed. Henry and Burke, Lancaster contractors, were awarded the contract on their low bid.

The new building will be 30 by 80 feet, and two stories high excluding the basement. It was announced.

It is proposed to erect the museum on the site of the "campus martius," the spot that marks the erection of the first stockade for protection from the Indians in the Buckeye state.

Situated in the very heart of the Ohio river Indian country and famous for its scenic beauties, Marietta is the ideal place for a museum, state official declared.

The wise, the foolish, the learned, the unlearned. The good, the bad, the rich, the poor. Here in folks is to be found a mine of gold and beauty, but not without alloy. The appreciation that is wisely discriminating here will constitute a ladder on which you may rise to a sure place of high privilege.

"David and Longfellow were great singers. David's greatest song is the one we call the shepherd Psalm. While I would not say that Longfellow's 'Psalm of Life' was his greatest poem, it is perhaps the most popular, and has been of the greatest inspiration to the world.

"To both David and Longfellow life was not a drift without meaning, but was an orderly progress, full of purpose. David thinks of man as one of a great flock. All are under the shepherd's care. He knows where he is leading.

"All the day is planned and full of purpose. God's wise purpose for every life may be found by following where he leads. Here we are at once related to God and to society.

"The state in providing for and in encouraging education has in mind the value and necessity among a free people under a republican form of government. Where the good of one is the good of all. Education has been called the handmaid of religion. We might better say, education is the child of the church and the handmaid of the state. The best interests of the individual, and society are under God one and the same. For the strength of the pack is the wolf, and the strength of the wolf is the pack.

"Longfellow is more spiritual than David. Life is intense, real, serious. Man is ever advancing in a great procession. All together we are advancing. But to act that each tomorrow finds us further than today.

"Both of our poets see God with clear eyes as the great saving background of the human life. Man may hope, he may have confidence, he may do his work with a trusting heart because God is watching over him. Our work in his care and purpose cannot fail, nor can we until our work is done. Death itself will lead to life. The note of faith and absolute assurance with which these poets sing is most comforting.

"Longfellow catches hope in the thought of God and feels the blood bound within him with inspiration and courage. Both teach that we should do our whole duty today and get all the comfort and blessing that today holds for us rather than thrust aside both duties and enjoyments of the nobler sort into some far-off imaginary period which may never come to us, or if it should come, will find us unfitted for them. Let us live today.

"The friendships and opportunities of today should be appreciated and enjoyed. We cannot afford to fall in seizing the joys and blessings which God gives us through the love and fellowship of every day. Take them now. They are not for tomorrow. The tomorrow will take care of itself. Listen again to this word of David:

"Surely goodness and mercy shall follow me all the days of my life."

"The same note—doing the work of today that both for ourselves and our neighbor we may make the present a fit godfather for the future.

"Trust no future how'er pleasant! Let the dead past bury its dead! Act in the living present!

Heart within, and God o'erhead!"

MAN SLAYS WIFE THEN SUICIDES

Ten Children Made Orphans by Cleveland Tragedy.

LORAIN, O., May 21.—A murder and suicide were written on Lorain police records today and ten children became orphans, following the death of Herman Van Niel, 51, and his wife, Grace, 48.

According to two of the children, Genevieve, 15, and Sylvia, 12, who witnessed the tragedy, the parents had been quarrelling, late last night. The two girls said they came downstairs and saw their father leaving the house, holding a shotgun. Fearing he was about to commit suicide, the girls called Mrs. Van Niel to the porch of the home, when Van Niel, becoming enraged, fired a charge into his wife's head, killing her instantly. He then turned the weapon upon himself and inflicted fatal wounds under the heart.

The family apparently had spent a happy Sunday together at Cleveland airport. According to police the fatal quarrel started after their return home.

Van Niel, removed to a hospital, died at 5 o'clock this morning.

REPORTS FROM STOCK MARKETS

NEW YORK, May 21.—Both the industrial and the railroad stocks settled down to a lower range of prices at the beginning of trading today. The best reports from the speculative district indicated the liquidation of the industrial and motor stocks was in progress, with good buying demand for all stocks offered.

The commerce commission's decision granting the right of Chesapeake and Ohio to acquire Pere Marquette (with unexpected stipulations) and rejecting the proposed acquisition of Erie is expected to delay still further the completion of the Nickel Plate merger. Chesapeake and Ohio declined about 8 points to 197 under heavy offerings into a first half hour and Erie lost about 2 points.

With the call loan renewal rate at 6 per cent, financial opinion was considerably divided on the money situation, particularly in view of the resumption of gold exportation. Business reports were generally favorable, the 4 per cent increase in steel output in the first four months of 1928 heading the list.

The airplane stocks lost about 8 points in a reduced volume of trading in this period. Curtiss declining to 13 and Wright to 197. Persistent selling of General Motors resulted in a new 1 1/2 point decline to 191, while Radio lost 4 points at 179 1/2 and Consolidated Gas 3. United States Steel slipped off 1 1/2 points and moderate losses were sustained by a few of the dividend rails.

BOY IS KILLED BY AUTOMOBILE

CINCINNATI, O., May 21.—William Halsey, 7-year-old son of Jesse Halsey, pastor of the Seventh Presbyterian church of this city, died in General hospital yesterday, the result of a fractured skull sustained when struck by an automobile in a week-end traffic accident Saturday night.

Police said the boy, dressed in a "police" uniform was playing "traffic cop" in the street when an automobile, driven by Leo Doss, of Mariemont, struck him, inflicting fatal injuries.

Doss was exonerated by witnesses.

'ELMER GANTRY' IS APPROVED

Cleveland Police Refuse to Interfere With Stage Play.

CLEVELAND, May 21.—After recommending a few changes, including a suggestion that all references to denominations and sects be stricken out, Safety Director Edwin D. Barry today had placed his official "ok" on "Elmer Gantry," dramatized from the book of Sinclair Lewis, which had its premiere here last night.

Barry's decision was reached after a conference with Assistant Law Director H. S. Brainard and several police officials who attended the first performance.

The safety director also suggested that several love scenes in the play be "toned down and shortened."

Rev. E. R. Wright, executive secretary of the federated churches, who last week appealed to Barry to prevent staging of the production, was not present.

Several New York critics were here to view the play.

BIDS FOR COUNTY ROAD BONDS WILL BE OPENED ON JUNE 11

Approximately $399,000 Will be Expended on Eight County Projects Listed for Improvement.

LISBON, May 21.—Bids for $399,000 of the $950,000 county road bonds authorized three years ago will be opened by the county commissioners at 10 o'clock June 11. Eight different road projects are included in the several proposals.

On bids for $54,000 of the bonds, all of which bear 5 per cent interest, $18,000 will be used as the county's share for the construction of a new bridge on the Lincoln highway just south of Lisbon, while $10,000 is to be used on the new bridge being built in Salineville. An amount of $26,000 will be the county's share for the construction of a new bridge over Little Yellow Creek at Wellsville.

Out of the proposal on the sale of $245,000 bonds, $80,000 is the county's share growing out of the improvement of the Lisbon-Salineville road and $85,000 for similar purposes on the Lisbon-Elkton-Clarkson road in Elkton and Middleton townships. There is also to be used out of this amount $80,000 as the county's share for the grading and drainage of the East Palestine-East Liverpool road. Both of the above issues will mature October 1, 1937.

From the proposal to sell a block of $100,000 bonds, $20,000 is designated as the county's share for paving the Lisbon-Salineville road and $80,000 for paving the East Palestine-East Liverpool road. This last block of bonds will mature October 1, 1935. Mellert-Weidner company of Medina, submitted the low bid when proposals were opened at Columbus last Friday for the surfacing of the last section of the East Liverpool-Youngstown road in Fairfield township. Their proposal was $66,470.09 or $13,691.27 under the estimate of $80,161.46 for a concrete top.

The second low bid was submitted by Lewis & Copeland of Lima at $67,687.71, while J. D. Paxson of Salem was third low at $67,986.46.

Mellert-Weidner company are now pouring concrete on the Williamsport-Rogers section of this road, and over one mile has been laid. The new section in Fairfield township will connect with a recently opened concrete road in Mahoning county at a junction on the Cox highway, east of Columbiana. The last section to be awarded is for the surfacing of 2.361 miles or 15,167 feet.

This firm was recently awarded the contract for the surfacing of the Salineville-Lisbon road and has shipped its equipment, and it is the opinion of County Surveyor Lloyd C. Kirk that the first concrete will be poured about May 28. Completion of this gap will then give an improved highway between Salineville and Lisbon through Hepner hollow south of Lisbon and through Gavers.

Mrs. Hughes Seeks Divorce.
LISBON, May 21.—Charging her husband, John Hughes, of East Liverpool, with gross neglect of duty, Mary Hughes, through her counsel, Frank E. Grosshans, has filed a petition in common pleas court seeking a divorce. They were married at Newell, W. Va., May 15, 1923. Custody of a child and alimony is also asked in the petition.

Court of Appeals in Session.
LISBON, May 21.—Court of appeals of the seventh district opened at Steubenville today with 38 cases listed, the heaviest trial docket in that county for many years. In addition about 10 cases are to be reviewed from Belmont county. At the close of the term in Jefferson county, the court will sit at Youngstown.

Eastern Star Inspection Here.
LISBON, May 21.—Annual inspection of Ivy Chapter No. 311, Eastern Star, will be held at the Masonic temple, Lisbon, Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock with Miss Ethel Wood as the inspecting officer. It has been announced by Miss Cora Zimmerman, secretary. This event will be preceded by a dinner that will be served at 6 o'clock. Mrs. Agnes Smith is worthy matron of the chapter.

Plan to Eliminate Detour.

LISBON, May 21.—It has been announced that the detour at the Cannon's Mill bridge on the East Liverpool-Youngstown road will be eliminated Wednesday. Recently poured sections at Township line school and Apple's corner have been opened to traffic.

Elimination of the Cannon's Mill detour will give traffic north to within a half mile of the new concrete bridge spanning Beaver creek at Williamsport.

Licensed to Wed.

LISBON, May 21.—A marriage license has been issued to Herman C. Stratton of Wooster and Miss Doris M. Cobbs, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joel Cobbs of Salem. They are to be married by the Rev. Davis.

Marion W. Humphrey of Minerva and Miss Thelma W. Davis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Garland Davis of Newgarden, obtained a marriage license. They will be married by the Rev. Funk.

Try This for Old Sores and Ulcers

Relief Comes At Once.

If you have an old or running sore or an ulcer you ought to get a 35 cent box of Peterson's Ointment today and prove to yourself its mighty healing power.

Many have written us of sores of long standing that had been healed after expensive treatments had failed. A Railroad Man in Battle Creek, Mich., wrote that he had varicose ulcers for about a year and five months and Peterson's Ointment healed them after costly treatments had failed.

If you know of anyone who has an old sore or ulcer why not send them this notice?

A Chicago woman wrote that Peterson's Ointment healed a running sore that had been on her ankle for 10 years—all druggists sell it—35 cents a box.

How One Thin Woman Gained 11 Pounds

Read This Letter

This is from Mrs. W. E. Looney— I just must tell you that McCoy's Tablets are the finest things I have ever tried. I have always been thin and never found anything to do me so much good. I was disappointed in the beginning.

I weighed 104 when I began—now I weigh 115½. I praise them. I can't be without them. My limbs are picking up fine. I am singing their praises to everyone I see. I didn't have any faith in them to start.

Signed (Mrs. W. E. Looney) Tenn., Oct. 16th, 1927. McCoy takes all the risk—Read this ironclad guarantee. If after taking 4 sixty cent boxes of McCoy's Tablets or 2 One Dollar boxes any thin, underweight man or woman doesn't gain at least 5 pounds and feel completely satisfied with the marked improvement in health—your druggist is authorized to return the purchase price.

The name McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Tablets has been shortened—just ask for McCoy's Tablets at any drug store in America.

Exporters of New England to Hold Meet in Boston

BOSTON.—The exporters of Boston and many of those of New England will meet here on June 6 in the sixth annual New England Foreign Trade Conference of the Export Club of the Boston Chamber of Commerce. The purpose of the meeting is an effort to gain back some of the great foreign trade that was New England's own four and five decades ago.

This foreign trade, first secured by clippers and schooners out of Boston, Salem, Portland and other ports, has now passed in great extent, to other cities along the East coast.

CATHOLIC DAUGHTERS OF AMERICA INITIATE CLASS OF CANDIDATES

State Officers From Pennsylvania and West Virginia Attend Celebration Here Yesterday.

MIDLAND, Pa., May 21.—State officers of Pennsylvania and West Virginia were here yesterday to assist in the initiation of candidates for Court Midland 653, Catholic Daughters of America, in Lincoln high school yesterday afternoon. More than 200 officers and guests attended the initiation banquet which followed at 6 o'clock.

Yesterday marked the twenty-fifth anniversary of the founding of the national organization of Catholic women. Thirty candidates were received in the first initiation ceremony held by the local court in five years. Miss Rose McKee, Latrobe, lecturer, was in charge of initiation work, which opened at 2:30 o'clock in the high school gymnasium.

Miss Ida B. Phillips, grand regent of Court Midland, welcomed guests at the banquet following the invocation by Rev. J. A. Green, pastor of Presentation church.

Addresses were given by Miss Nora King, Pittsburgh, vice state regent of Pennsylvania; Rev. John L. Maurer, pastor of St. Ann's Catholic church, East Liverpool, O.; Mrs. Jane Nazle Lear, Wheeling, W. Va., state regent of West Virginia; and Miss Helen Holmboe, Pittsburgh, executive secretary of the home finding department of the organization. Mrs. Lauretta Rodgers sang a solo and Miss Loyola Maroney presented a reading. John Dorgan, grand knight, Midland council 2905, Knights of Columbus, addressed the women.

Mrs. Della Crawford, Midland, district deputy, acted as toastmistress. Music was furnished by the Court South Hills orchestra, Pittsburgh.

DODGE BROTHERS VICTORY SIX

$1045
COUPE F. O. B. DETROIT

How do YOU test a motor car?

Is speed the first test you apply to a motor car? . . . Then drive The Victory Six, for no car in its class is so fast.

Is acceleration a major consideration? . . . 5 to 25 miles in 7½ seconds—10 to 45 miles in 13½ seconds—tell the unparalleled story of Victory pick-up.

Are you interested in economy? . . . 21 miles per gallon at 25 miles per hour is average gas consumption for this famous Six.

A hill climber? . . . Ask Montana, Colorado, Pennsylvania! More power per pound is the answer. A body with only 8 major parts—lighter by 175 pounds—yet sturdier!

A smooth traveller? . . . Dash over railroad tracks—over old cobble pavements—and you'll marvel! For The Victory Six is different. No body sills—no body overhang—chassis the full width of the body—a lower center of gravity. Sidesway, bouncing, rear wheel chatter magically absent.

Roomy? . . . Head room equal to any—superior to most—in its class. Wider seats—more leg room. Big!

And a beauty! Rakish and trim in line, richly upholstered, beautifully lacquered in smart hues—tomorrow's style with Dodge dependability.

A car that you should try out—now—yourself at the wheel.

Coupe, $1045; 4-door Sedan, $1095; DeLuxe Sedan, $1170; DeLuxe 4-pass. Coupe, $1170; Sport Sedan, $1295—f. o. b. Detroit.

Invading Teams Suffer Heavy Losses In Both Major Leagues

Tribe Only Club to Get Better Than Even Break

Cubs Jump to First Place in Home Stay; Giants Drop 8 Out of 15; Yanks Capture 12 Out of 13 Contests.

By Les Conklin.

NEW YORK, May 21.—Seven major league teams which have just finished a disastrous road trip chortled "there's no place like home" with relief today as they returned to their own neck of the woods. Cleveland was the only invading team in either league to get better than an even break.

The Cubs jumped to first place during their home stay by winning thirteen straight games before losing to Boston yesterday. The Cardinals had the next best record in the National league, winning ten of sixteen. The Giants, who left New York in first place, took only seven out of fifteen and dropped into the third slot. The Phillies topped only one of thirteen games.

The Yankees set the pace in the American league, capturing all of their thirteen contests except one game with Cleveland. The Athletics grabbed ten out of thirteen and the Red Sox suffered but four setbacks in twelve starts. The St. Louis Browns lost ten of their twelve clashes.

What happens when an irresistible force meets an immovable body will be demonstrated today when the Yanks take on the Red Sox in a double-header. The Yanks have won eight straight and the Sox have copied six in a row.

Yesterday the Hugmen swamped the Browns 9 to 3. George Pipgras, the league's leading pitcher, turned in his seventh victory in as many starts.

The Cubs couldn't get past the hoodoo mark of thirteen straight and were stymied by the Braves, 4 to 3.

Cincinnati advanced to within one game of the Cubs by nosing out Pittsburgh, 3 to 2, on Allen's hit in the ninth. Lucas and Grimes did the throwing.

Vic Aldridge started his first game for the Giants in the nightcap of a double bill with St. Louis and lost, 2 to 1. The New Yorkers got only four hits, including a homer by Roush, off Sylvester Johnson. The Giants took the opener, 5 to 3.

Bissonette hit his seventh homer, making him one up on Jack Wilson in the National league home run sweepstakes, as Brooklyn outslugged the Phillies, 11 to 4.

Cleveland shaded Washington, 4 to 3, sweeping the series. Van Gilder of the Tigers captured a 2 to 1 pitching duel from Ted Lyons of the White Sox, driving in the winning run himself in the ninth after Pat Fothergill had tied the score with a homer.

Chicago Derby Next Big Event For Turfdom

Leading Stables to be Represented in June 9 Race.

CHICAGO, May 21.—Now that the Kentucky derby is a matter of history, with Reigh Count, a Chicago entry and the favorite, sloping his way through mud and water to a decisive victory, turfdom turns its attention to the American derby which will be run June 9 at Arlington track.

Toro, winner of the Queen City handicap at Latonia last fall, has been nominated by the E. B. McLean stable, which also may enter Algol, Time Maker and Moscow. Dr. Wilson, winner of the Tjuana derby at the Mexican oval near San Diego, California, may also be on hand.

H. P. Whitney has named four horses and Willie Sharp Kilmer of Birmingham, N. Y., owner of the one-time famous Extremist, winner of the 1918 Kentucky derby will have two or three entries.

Either Knapsack or Strolling Player may carry the colors of Admiral Gary T. Grayson.

Colonel E. R. Bradley of the Idle Hour Farm Stable of Kentucky will have two entries.

Wacker Drive, winner of the Breeders' Futurity last fall, has been entered by Alderman John J. Coughlin of Chicago.

Leo Marks, owner of Mistepe, winner of the American National Futurity at Arlington in 1927, will be presented, as well as Lee Rosenberg, H. T. Archibald, R. Levine, W. S. Klein, H. C. Herendee, Mrs. John D. Hertz and other Chicago owners.

The purse is $25,000.

Salem is District Winner

Allen Sets New World's Pole Vault Mark.

SEVEN new district records, one tied, a new world's inter-scholastic mark, and a victory for Salem—these are the outstanding results of the northeastern Ohio district track and field meet at Reilly Field, Salem, Saturday.

Lowell Allen, Salem's great pole vaulter, cleared the bar at the dizzy height of 13 feet, 1 1/2 inches, beating both the district and the world's records for schoolboy competition.

The schools finished as follows: Salem, 36; Canton McKinley, 31; Akron Garfield, 24; Akron South 23; Youngstown South 19; Akron East, 17; Akron North, 13 Massillon 11; Kent Roosevelt, 9; Akron Central, 6; East Liverpool, 5; Wellsville, 5; Alliance, 4; Ravenna, 4; Warren, 1.

Salem placed 12 in the pole vault, with Keith Roessler finishing second to Allen with a mark of 12 feet, three inches.

Allen first cleared 12 feet, 1 1/2 inches and the bar went up to 13 feet, three inches, according to the measurements on the standards.

On two attempts he failed but on the third he slid over the bamboo and with him went a new world's record. The height, of course, was reduced from 13 feet, three inches, to 13 feet, 1 1/2 inches, the actual measurement being made by steel tapes from the ground to the middle of the sag in the cross bar. Four officials confirmed the new figures.

Frank Kirkham placed second in the discus and Elmer English fifth in the hundred-yard dash for East Liverpool's points.

Nelson was third in the Javelin and Snowden fourth in the shot for Wellsville's points.

Meet summary:

100 yard dash—Sauer (AS, Campbell (McK), Anderson (AG), Seeds (S), English (EL). Time—10.4 sec.

Ray Confident He Can Break Olympic Mark

Expects to Cut Seven Minutes Off 1920 Record.

NEW YORK, May 21.—Joie Ray, the cocky Chicagoan who won the New York to Long Beach marathon last Saturday in 2:34:13.25, now boldly predicts that he will run the marathon in the Olympic games at Amsterdam in two hours and twenty-five minutes. The Olympic record is 2:32:35.45, made by Hannes Kolehmainen in 1920.

"Chesty Joie" goes west tonight for a rest before beginning intensive training. He plans to take ten and fifteen-mile workouts in preparation for the big race at Amsterdam on Aug. 6. He will participate in a ten-mile road race at Malden, Mass., on Memorial day; in another ten-mile race at Medford, Mass., on June 16, in the 10,000 meter Olympic sectional try-out in Chicago on June 30 under the auspices of the Central A. A. U.; and in the 10,000 meter final Olympic try-out at the Harvard stadium in Cambridge, Mass., on July 7.

Ray and Clarence De Mar, who finished seventh in Saturday's race, are the outstanding candidates for Olympic marathon berths.

Pyle's Parade Faces 72-Mile Grind Today

Longest Day's Stretch Since Leaving Coast.

By Leland C. Lewis

WAVERLY, N. Y., May 21.—Some what bedraggled, but with determination unwavering, C. C. "Cross-Country" Pyle's highway harriers turned their steps eastward from here today for Deposit, 72 miles away, the longest and perhaps the most arduous day's going since they left Los Angeles, March 4.

Hefating the big parade was Andy Payne, the farmer boy from Claremore, Oklahoma, who has traversed 3155.77 miles in 523:05.08, this giving him a lead of 17:53:19 over John Salo, Passaic, N. J., Finnish-American who is entrenched in second place. Yesterday's 58.3 miles from Bath to Waverly added another test for the heel and tone caravan who have defied mountain, desert, prairie and hill with every imaginable change in weather and climatic conditions.

Paul Simpson, North Carolina collegian, was first for the day in 8:57:10, fifty minutes and twenty-three seconds ahead of Payne, Salo and Seth Gonzales, Denver, who tied for second, drenched the course through the seventeen hours from starting time. Rain in intermittent near-cloudbursts until the midnight deadline.

Ineligibility Hits Midland Track Squad

Go to Beaver County Meet With Crippled Team.

MIDLAND, Pa., May 21.—Crippled by the loss of half its runners who were declared ineligible at the last moment because of low scholastic standing, Midland high track squad scored two points in the Beaver county interscholastic track and field meet at Geneva college, Beaver Falls, Pa., Saturday afternoon.

Harding high, Aliquippa, came through with a surprise point total of 36 for second place. Beaver was third with 30 points; Rochester, fourth, with 21 points; and New Brighton and Ellwood City tied for fifth with 10 points apiece.

Herring, Coach Lomond's colored flash, upon whom much of the Blue and Gold's chances rested, placed fourth in the 160-yard and 440 yard dashes.

Ellen Parker placed fourth in the girls' baseball throw. Girls' relay team composed of Margaret Mullen, Margaret McGogney, Myrtle Halbert and Isabel Silverberg, finished fifth in the 440-yard relay.

Miles Jermannovich, discus thrower; Morris High, half miler; Ann Rutherford, baseball throw and Isabel Silverberg, 160-yard dash, competed, but failed to place in the meet.

Turk Nash Primes Bats For Wellsville Series

Clash in Two Games This Week; Tuesday Tilt at Nicholson Park; Katies in Action Tonight at Chester.

A whole batch of interesting possibilities exist in this week's City Industrial League engagements, chief among which are those attending the Wellsville-Turk Nash two-game series.

The Wellsville league leaders, who have run up six consecutive victories, topping every club in the loop to date with the exception of the Turk Nash delegation whom they have yet to meet, are heading the first half race at the present time by a decisive margin and unless some of the other clubs of the circuit rake up sufficient base hits and runs to head them off, the Nicholson nine will just about have the pennant for the half nailed to the flag pole.

Turk Nash and Wellsville clash in two games this week, one at Wellsville and one here.

The Wellsville club originally was billed to perform at Patterson field tomorrow night. The west end lot, however, is in better shape today for an aquatic meet than for a baseball game and so the game has been transferred to Wellsville. But the game between this pair scheduled at Wellsville on Friday will be played here, the schedule simply being reversed to suit conditions.

The Turk Nash-Madison Billiards contests, slated for Columbian park for tonight, also has been postponed, probably until Saturday, on account of a death in the family of one of the Turk Nash players.

Therefore, but the one game will be staged tonight, K. T. K. going into action at Chester.

The result of this game, incidentally, will break the existing three-way tie for second place among Chester, K. T. K. and Turk Nash. The winner of tonight's battle will take the honors undisputedly, for the time being at least, and the loser will drop into fourth place.

The Constant Flame

Narrative of Love and Struggle
Against Temptations
By WINIFRED VAN DUZER

Anne's eyes glittered. "Kent, of course. Didn't he tell you he's leaving next year? Oh," carelessly, turning the bar, "thought everybody knew that. Going to private school. Have to find you a new sweetie, I guess. Well, there's Marty Nolan—"

Emily stammered "Indeed!" though her lips were numb. She ran into the school building, straight up the stairs, past the recitation rooms, to a little cupola store-room where no one ever came. There she sank to her knees before a window that looked out over the river toward the Tarrytown hills.

Leaving next year... Kent... She kept musing that in her mind, trying to make it mean something. Next year she would come back here; she would sit over in the sophomore section where he had been, perhaps have his very desk. And he would be gone.

Tall, merry boy, turning to her with his smile, dropping funny little notes. Waiting for her at the elm by the corner, bending down to say some teasing thing. No more!

Out into the world now; he was going away to school College afterward—years before he'd come again. He'd have forgotten her then. Just a girl he knew once, went to school with when both were kids.

Only she would remember, here where all things reminded her of him. Go on remembering always... turn down an empty glass...

The hills across the river dimmed and merged with purple shadows; lights sprang out and lay like a scattering of jewels on a length of dark cliff. Emily knew all at once that the night chill had cramped her muscles and penetrated her heart.

She came slowly down through the deserted building and made her way home. There she went about meekly, helping Agnes, fussing over Steve who had gone back to his couch and spent most of his time lying very still.

And what she had heard that afternoon was like a wound throbbing deep in her mind.

There came a bit of diversion when the whole class room was invited to the Rossiter's for a farewell party. Emily didn't want to attend at first; she was stricken with shyness at the thought of going into Kent's home, seeing him there, perhaps meeting his father and mother.

She told Frances Haiden a little of this. "Of course you're going," Mrs. Haiden declared. "Sheer cowardice not to. Don't ever become self-conscious, Emily; that's only egotism turned upside down. Is Agnes busy these days? Too busy to do a little sewing?"

She began to rummage in a drawer, brought up some light, filmy stuff. "We'll make it with flounces and you'll wear a gilt rose at the shoulder. You will look very lovely, my dear."

It turned out to be something like the frock she had wished for her first party at Anne Morrow's so long ago. Only that was to have been like a daffodil but this was paler and sweeter, rather more a hollyhock in the way pale gold frills dropped about her slenderness over stockings and slippers Mrs. Haiden had tinted faint green.

She walked sedately out River Road but when she turned in at the gateway of Highcliffe all her senses quivered to an exquisite excitement. She stood a moment with her hands to her throat, trying to make her heart stop knocking so. She had an absurd illusion that Kent would be waiting, coming down the steps to meet her, smiling in the dim light.

But it was the Jap butler who let her in and directed her to the room where girls were leaving their wraps. A maid offered powder and rouge which she refused, and sent her to the dressing-room downstairs.

Kent was by the door, tall and buoyant, handsome as a young god in black and white. He took both her hands, stared a moment, gave her a quick, winning smile.

"Never realized you were a raving beauty, Em. Look as if you'd stepped off a magazine cover. You know Avis?"

Hand on her arm, he led her through the crowded room. Avis was standing by a window with Marty Nolan; she was tall as Kent but dark with stormy eyes and rather sullen, full lips. Very beautiful, Emily thought her, and very much the lady of the world as she turned languidly, shrugging a bare shoulder.

"Avis—" Kent grinned delightedly. "Little pal of mine—Emily Day. Ever see anything prettier?" Avis shrugged again, said "How do you do?" in a bored tone without a change of expression and turned back to Marty. It reminded Emily, oddly, of Raggedy up-staging the yapping cur, such a complete snub it was. She flushed and turned; then she saw that Kent had noticed nothing wrong. It took her years to learn that men seldom sense the feline gesture.

"Perhaps it's the society way," she thought. "Make others feel uncomfortable, let them see you're not interested. Yet that isn't kind; it doesn't seem to me it's the thoroughbred thing."

She thought of this as the party went on and she saw that Avis' manner had not been reserved for her alone. She met everyone with a languid weariness excepting Marilee Grainger who came late and was even more haughty than Avis herself.

And, of course, Marty Nolan.

Emily kept wondering about that. Marty, a striking fellow with the light on his ruddy head, turning his scornful glance everywhere. But not one you'd expect Avis to single out. She sat beside him now, all flashing smile, looking at him something as Anne Morrow did when that girl would rush up and begin, "Oh, Mr. Nolan—"

Emily kept wondering about that. Marty, a striking fellow with the light on his ruddy head, turning his scornful glance everywhere. But not one you'd expect Avis to single out. She sat beside him now, all flashing smile, looking at him something as Anne Morrow did when that girl would rush up and begin, "Oh, Mr. Nolan—"

Could it be that Avis, too, thought him a "type"—whatever that was—"red-blooded and two-fisted"? But Marty wasn't trying to get away from Avis. He scowled but his eyes never left the beautiful face. Once when they seemed to be arguing something his fingers closed tightly around her arm; so tightly that red marks sprang out afterward.

A tremendous experience this was for Emily, coming here to Highcliffe, seeing just how magnificent a home might be.

The portraits on the walls, some of the subjects in powdered wigs and ruffs; the soft, exquisitely blended colors of the rooms; the servants moving like shadows in the background; even the thin, gleaming crystal in which ices were served. Oh, a supreme experience for a girl from The Hill!

Yet her mind kept going back to Avis and Marty sitting together throughout the evening. Not a surprising thing that Marilee Grainger kept close to Kent, treated him with a half petulant air of proprietorship. The Graingers lived up the river; their grounds adjoined Highcliffe and it was generally understood Kent and Marilee would be married when they were older.

But Marty... First Anne and now Avis Rossiter... She stood by a French window opening on a terrace. Outside the lawns were powdered by moonlight; roses were wraith flowers nodding in the stillness.

With a quick little glance around she opened the window and went wandering... under the stars.

CHAPTER 8.

On the brink of the cliff there was a circular pergola, very white and ghostly in the dim light, above a stone bench. Rose vines swayed overhead, spilling a soft fragrance; far below the river ran liquid silver, throwing up eerie spurts of brightness where little waves caught the moon-beams.

Emily stole in here, sat down with an awed happiness, relished to the charm of splendid night. No problem to ponder out here; only rising about her, overwhelming with gentle peace.

PITTSBURGH SEES ITSELF AS AIR CENTER

Industrial Giant is Interested in Aviation.
LOCATION GOOD
National Elimination Balloon Races Prove Boon.

PITTSBURGH.—Pittsburgh, industrial giant, has become interested in aviation.
Pittsburgh is advantageously located as an opportune landing or hopping-off point. Just as the junction of Monongahela and Allegheny rivers here form the Ohio and make Pittsburgh the key to the west by water, so also has nature endowed Pittsburgh in an aerial way because of its physical makeup.

The mountain chains in this section of the country provide treacherous for airplane engines tired after long trips and thus Pittsburgh is nominated as a logical place to prepare a plane for the trickery of mountain and valley, fogs and air pockets.

The Blue Ridge mountain extends its chain of peaks along much of the southern portion of the state east of Pittsburgh, while to the south and west of Pittsburgh the Allegheny mountains, part of the Appalachians, form no small hazard for airplane pilots.

Weather Observers.
It is necessary to traverse the Alleghenies to get into West Virginia and Ohio from here, and in some spots special observers are stationed to render reports on weather and flying conditions. In the mountains along the southern section of the state, several pilots have been lost after being forced down in the forest, particularly near Bellefonte.

Things have happened in Pittsburgh recently to bring aviation more quickly to the fore.
Outstanding, probably, is the award of the national elimination balloon races to be staged here Memorial day. It is expected to attract more attention in things aeronautical in Pittsburgh than any other event since the visit of Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh.

There's been much clamoring for a huge city airport, located centrally and ideal in every way. It has been pointed out that the airplane fields here are inadequate both as to size and location.
Coming Traffic.
The decision of the Fokker Aircraft Corporation to construct its main plant in Mountville, near Wheeling, W. Va., pleased Pittsburgh. It is scarcely a half-hour's trip by airplane from here, and its location so near Pittsburgh was looked upon as a harbinger to the establishment of more industries whose output is pertinent to aviation.

Airway firms are making bids to land here. A group has asked the State Public Service Commission for

On Non-Stop Trip

Betty Carstairs, English "tom-boy," plans to drive a 70-foot motor-boat from Europe to America in 60 hours. She is coming here to race her speedy craft against Miss America V, owned by Gar Wood of Detroit. She will make her start some time next month.

a charter for a freight and passenger transportation line across Pennsylvania, from Pittsburgh to Harrisburg to Philadelphia.

The Stout Air Lines, Inc., are reported ready to extend an airpath to Pittsburgh. Several aviation projects have been rumored.

The propellers on the plane half of "We" and on most of the other planes which figured in epic flights were made by Standard Steel Propeller company, West Homestead, eight miles from Pittsburgh.

Pittsburgh drinkers of orange juice can now receive the golden product procured proudly by California, within 28 hours after it leaves that state, because this city has been routed as a depot on a national airline express.

In Great Britain there are now 416,539 leprosy patients.

Price of Church Pews Advancing In Massachusetts

BOSTON, Mass.—Just like a sea on the stock exchange, the price of a church pew has gone up.
It is on rare occasions that church pews go under the public hammer but in the auction at the Arlington Street Church pew No. 39 sold for $25, because of unpaid assessments. Some time ago pew No. 84 in the same church sold for $15 in the settling up of an old estate.

Rich Americans Pay Fabulous Rents in London

LONDON.—Carlton House Terrace, a select little thoroughfare just around the corner from London's theatrical district has become the mecca for American hostesses entertaining in London. Here the real estate agents are getting fabulous sums for houses, as the social set of Americans residing in London fight for the opportunity of leasing or renting one of the many white houses that line the Terrace.

An American millionaire, A. J. Wright, has taken one of the stately homes in the Terrace for three months at a cost, it is understood, of $1,000 per week. Mrs. Saxham Drury, formerly Mabel Gerry, of New York, has rented No. 5 Carlton House Terrace.

Among other newly arrived Americans who have taken up residence in Carlton Terrace are: Mrs. Alfred Bosson, wife of the well-known architect, and the American born Frau Stahmer, wife of the German Minister.

Entire Jury Panel "Fired" by Federal Judges in Duluth

DULUTH, Minn.—Action rare in American jurisprudence was taken by United States District Court Judges William A. Cant and John B. Sanborn here recently when they dismissed the entire jury panel of the May term of court because juries returned verdicts which the court declared were not substantiated by the evidence, and ordered the entire criminal calendar held over until the September term of court.

The court in a statement issued by Judge Cant and concurred in by Judge Sanborn declared "the circumstances were of an extraordinary character and such as to call for prompt and vigorous action; that justice had been thwarted and that the conduct of the jurors in certain cases had amounted to reproach to the administration of the law."

Eight-year-old Daphne Fox was recently killed near Belfast, Ireland, by an airplane falling on her.

TALK "COP"

As a traffic cop handles vehicles, so Miss Florence Kohn handles after-dinner speakers. At the Illinois Medical Men's association banquet with a list of speakers, their time limits and an alarm clock. The speakers couldn't talk the clock down when it rang as their time expired, so they quit.
